

Almost Everything We Need to Know About Leadership We Learned in Kindergarten

An adaptation of Robert Fulghum's bestselling book applied to leadership

NASA Lessons Learned About Mission, Culture, Teamwork and Leadership

How the combination of a bold mission statement, the proper leadership, and teamwork led to a monumental success

The Challenger Accident: Lessons in Culture and Communication

What the tragic loss of seven astronauts in 1986 can teach us about the importance of culture and communication in an organization

StartupDad
advisor · mentor · investor · dad

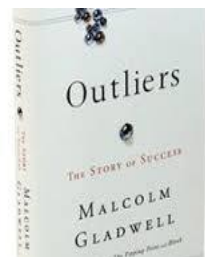

From Happy Meals to Heading a Startup: Raising a Teen Entrepreneur

Lessons learned from raising a teen entrepreneur including how to help your kids find their entrepreneurial gifts and what to do about it

The 10,000 Hours Rule and Entrepreneurial Skills Development

A discussion of how the purposeful development of entrepreneurial skills over time will prepare our students to succeed in life, based on Malcomb Gladwell's book "Outliers"

Anatomy of a Scandal: Why Leaders Fail

An examination of the causes of scandal among leaders and top executives, and how to avoid being next

Guiding Principles: How We Develop Them and Why They Matter

How developing and implementing guiding principles in our personal and business lives can sustain us through good times and bad

Finding the Intersection of Our Gifts, Passion, and Need

A discussion of how finding this intersection as early as possible in our lives can impact important decisions about college, career, and life

Athlete to Entrepreneur

A discussion of how the knowledge and skills learned in athletics can give athletes an advantage as entrepreneurs

